WHAT THE COKE MERGER

WILL SURELY BOTTLE UP.

The loud alarms sounded by a Morgantown newspaper concerning the disastrous effect upon the coal fields of Greene county and West Virginia of the Connelleville coke region merger do not seem to terrify the people who own this coal. The Uniontown Standard dispenses of the matter after the following fashion:

Some of our neighboring towns are usually excited over the coal merger, predicting direful things to other sections if the combine is effected. They imagine that the combine will be a scheme to 'bottle up' Greene county, Monongalia, Marshall and other West Virginia counties and prevent the development of their coal resources, and to prevent such a calamity they are calling upon the people to organize and build a coal railroad to their own with terminal in places that have no use for coal and where there could be no possible demand for coal for it.

The alarmists should calm themselves long enough to glance at the principal terms of the coke merger, and their fears would be allayed or dissipated. The gentlemen most active in the promotion of the merger own and control very large bodies of coal in the counties named—perhaps 100 acres where the people who are expressing wild alarm over the combine own one acre—and they are not the kind of people who bottle up their own coal holdings and other possessions. They are very safe men to trust to get what they own on the market and they have not invested in Greene, Marshall and Monongalia with the expectation of keeping their purchases for a generation or two. The building of railroads on paper by the alarmists is a harmless pastime of ancient origin but there is no occasion for the attempt to scare the people with the prospect of a coke merger. It will aid rather than retard the development of the sections which the alarmists fear will be 'bottled up.'

This is in line with what has already been said in this paper concerning the result of the consummation of the coke merger. So far from depreciating the value of adjoining coal lands the consummation of the coke merger will materially enhance them.

It may not immediately develop such coal lands, since their development will depend altogether upon the demand for the coal or the coke which can and will be manufactured therefrom. But the coke merger, by maintaining a profitable price for coke will conserve the value of the Connelleville coking coal and what ever maintains its value will enhance the value of adjacent coal. The logic of this proposition defies contradiction.

So long, therefore, as the value of the adjacent coal is enhanced, its owners will perhaps be content to do business with the expensive proposition of its development, to say nothing of the possible poor returns from its operation in a crowded market and under cutthroat competition such as has prevailed in the Connelleville region in times past.

The experience of thirty years in the Connelleville region shows that the value of the best coking coal in the world was always in dull times sacrificed to desperate competition save only during those periods when the coke business was being conducted, with relation to its price at least, through a consolidation similar to the one now proposed. The Coal Syndicate of the '80's, and later the C. F. Fick Coal Company, syndicate and sold all the independent coking coal produced in the region with the result that prices were never so high save in periods when demand was high and production unequal to it.

It is, therefore, plain that the present consolidation of independent coking interests will be 1. The salvation of those interests, 2. The conservation of all the Connelleville Pittsburg coal developed and undeveloped, and 3. The enhancement of all values and the promotion of all present holding interests.

The Connelleville coke merger will bottle up nothing but that 'thief of prosperity' that has plundered this people so much named, Content Any Price.

SAVED HIS FACE AND PROTECTED HIS INTEREST.

Senator La Follette in refusing as a bad bargain, to vote on the tariff day on lead knew full well that a handsome precedent he was setting to a lot of his esteemed but phlegmatic fellow Senators, says the Chicago News.

"But we are unable to discover from the vote on the lead duties that he troubled them the least little bit," says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

It might be added that it probably didn't disturb the Iowa Lead Plate case to vote against his own particular industry when he knew that industry would be perfectly safe without his vote. He saved his face and permitted the other Senators to save his industry.

Politicians have been known to do such things before.

A CARELESS EDITOR.

The hearing in the receivership case of The People's Tribune is reported to have been concluded. It helped to fill up a large amount of valuable space in some rival papers, and in that respect perhaps filled a long felt want. It was a prohibition for which has probably jarred the life out of the party that once ran neck and neck with the Democratic party for the honor of being the chief minority party of Fayette county.

The hearing has developed the fact that Editor Likins was a careless man with his books his writings and his proxies. His slipshod bookkeeping has enabled his enemies to insinuate it was not openly charged that he has not been honest, his utterly false but sometimes utterly reckless editorials have threatened his associates with the unpleasant consequences of divers expensive libel suits and lastly, his charming but unbusinesslike conduct in his partner who prompted him to give the latter his proxy to vote against him, was the direct means of ousting him from the management of the paper.

Much of the testimony adduced at the hearing had little or no interest for the public, and the public will have little or no interest in the result of the case, which after all has only served to illustrate anew the fact that too many editors can spoil a newspaper just as quickly and effectively as too many cooks can spoil the broth.

Even a careless editor is better than none at all.

The plans for the extension of Johnstown avenue are not new but it is certainly the part of wisdom to open up this route to the city of Apple street if it is to be improved. Placemat and patchwork programs are seldom predicated of real avenues and should not be permitted to remain a blind alley.

Scottsdale is tight up to date with its sewerage problem.

In the chop-chop of State appropriations, the National Pike came forth with a bang for appropriation. The like needs it. While we are for good roads we think the first duty of the State is to maintain the roads already on hand before she builds a new one, especially such good roads as the historic National Pike.

Here is the way a newspaper once dunned its subscribers. If you have frequent fainting spells accompanied by chills, coughs, colds, nervousness, dizziness, epilepsy and jaundice it is a sign you are not well but liable to die any minute. You want a sharp knock in advance and this knock would sell solid for a good literary notice. Think it over.

One of the grave charges preferred against Colonel Pike is that he kicked the railroad out of the State. It was unfair and unworthy of the Colonel to kick anything with wooden legs.

The Senate is now trying to pass the bill on the National Pike as well as the country's motor. Penrose, introduced yesterday that the business of the country was suffering at the rate of millions of dollars per day while the Senate quibbled and quibbled over a difference of 45 cents in the price of painting a barn.

The Hon. Bill Flinn is said to be voting from the Watch Tower. The Hon. George Oliver is said in the United States Senate with a long-range political telescope and a covetous eye. If Senator Oliver makes us rapid progress to the bright light as he has in his Max effort during the last debate he will be harder to beat when he comes up again than some people thought when he was chosen for the remainder of Senator Knox's term.

If the slaughter of unregistered canines continues in the earnest manner in which it has been commenced in some localities it will make a brilliant opening for a sausage or a soap factory.

McKeepert is getting onto the sewage job. Connelleville should give this matter its earnest and prompt attention.

Unless individual ambition develops in sufficient quantities and carelessness it is probable that Fayette county will wait until the coming census gives her the Controlship without further ceremony.

Greene county wool is still a prominent part of that country's wealth. While the wool is perhaps not so valuable as the coal the wool is always on top of ground always in a state of commercial development and always a good crop save when dogs and disease disturb it.

SCOTSDALE WILL TAKE CENSUS TODAY

It Will Be Between the Hours of 6 and 7
O'clock.

BE READY TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

This Enumeration Will Be Very Valuable From All Standpoints and Will Give a Reliable Statement of the Number of Inhabitants.

SCOTSDALE, May 21.—Between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock this evening the religious census of Scottdale will be taken, the 150 local visitors to go about with cards upon which only a cross mark indicates the answer to a number of easy questions as to one's church preference, attendance, etc.

There was a meeting held last night which crowded the assembly room of the First Baptist Church at which those who have the census in charge were instructed as to their duties. There are 10 main districts mapped out in town and these districts are subdivided into 64 smaller districts.

The chiefs of the 10 large districts and the number of visitors which each one will direct are as follows: No. 1, George B. Shupe, 20; No. 2, W. J. Graef, 10; No. 3, William J. Canlin, 16; No. 4, H. K. Rhodes, 12; No. 5, Dr. O. C. Engle, 4; No. 6, O. S. Love, 14; No. 7, J. B. Hutchinson, 18; No. 8, W. F. Barclay, 14; No. 9, C. H. Stoner, 18; and No. 10, John Ritchie, 4. The census will require about one hour and from all standpoints will be a valuable record of the town.

Seniors Were Entertained.
One of the social affairs in connection with the commencement season in Scottdale schools was held last evening it being the charming party given the seniors at the beautiful home of Mrs. John P. Brennan of Broadway. The evening was pleasantly spent. The class will again be entertained on next Tuesday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Loucks.

Mr. Wilson Is Dead.
Clark Wilson of Parker is dead at his home there. He was the proprietor of the first paper published in Paxanawney and was aged about 90 years. He owned or published papers in a number of large towns of central Pennsylvania, and his son, H. C. Wilson, now of Parker, was in Scottdale for several years, being the owner and editor of The Observer.

Colored Voters Are Called.
Dr. W. D. Clifton of town, chairman of the Colored Voters' League of Westmoreland county, has issued the call for the county convention which is to be held in the Knights of Pythias hall, East Otterman street, Greensburg, on Thursday, May 27, at 1:30 o'clock.

Holding a Pie Social.
The Home Guild of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will strike for their altars and their fires with a patriotic pie social to be held in the dining room of the church this evening. Every tribe of pie will be represented from the golden lemon to the dark brown chocolate pie, the pies to be in open face design, luscious and with little work.

Has Been Having Big Crowds.
E. J. Buttermore, the manager of the Family Theatre on Broadway, has been having a very prosperous week in vaudeville. The improved times have caused the attendance to materially increase, says Mr. Buttermore, although he has been having very good success ever since the season opened.

Earl Fretts Home.
Earl Fretts, formerly with J. B. Hogg and the Frick Coke Company engineering corps, who has been at Sunny Rest Sanitarium, White Haven, has arrived home from there. His general health is much improved, and the trouble with his throat, the physicians believe, can now be as well treated here as at the sanitarium. His father, John E. Fretts, visited the sanitarium and came home with him.

Announcements Are Out.
The announcement cards were issued yesterday evening of the marriage of Miss Lucilla Fretts and Geo. W. Newcomer of Tyrone Church, at the home of the bride on Grove street, Scottdale, by Rev. H. B. Mansell yesterday.

Y. M. C. A. Board Meets.
The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting last evening, the first for some time, and reports of an encouraging nature were made. The matter of religious meetings to be held on the streets was discussed thoroughly and it was the sense of the directors that such meetings be held this season, as those of the past have been very successful. The athletic life of the association will come in for a vigorous summer campaign.

A GREAT SHOW AT THE SOISSON

The Best Vaudeville Bill of the Season is Holding The Boards at Pretty Theatre.

Crowded houses last night witnessed a splendid vaudeville show at the Soisson that was greeted with enthusiastic applause. It is a great comedy bill. The premier attraction is the Lorce Troupe of comedy acrobats, with their trick restaurant. The act from start to finish is full of snap and ginger and all are clever performers. Falk and King have an original sketch introducing some new songs and good, clean comedy. Dan Lozier, the trick bone whistler, is an artist in his line and pleased immensely. Ruby Caldwell did a neat song and dance and some excellent toe dancing. Two sets of pictures are given at opening and closing of the performance. The show in its entirety is undoubtedly the best that will be given here this season.

GREAT INDUSTRY AT STANDSTILL

During Funeral Services of
Henry H. Rodgers
Today.

STANDARD OIL IN MOURNING

Associates in Business and Intimate
Personal Friends Act as Honorary
Pallbearers at Services in New York This Morning.

New York, May 21.—The funeral of Henry H. Rodgers took place this morning from the Church of the Messiah, Madison avenue and Thirty-fourth street. The service was at 10 o'clock and from the church the body was taken to the Grand Central station and put aboard a special train for Fairhaven, Mass., Mr. Rodgers' birthplace, where the interment is to be.

While the services were being held over the body of one of the men who made the Standard Oil company what it is, business in the big office building at 25 Broadway and at the works and refineries all over the country was suspended. Not a stroke of the work beyond what was absolutely necessary to keep the furnaces going and the river of oil flowing was done by anybody for two hours.

This order affected more than 50,000 men. It is the first time such an order has been given in the history of the company and was observed by more persons than any similar order of its kind since the funeral of President McKinley.

The funeral services were of a very simple character. Only relatives, intimate friends and business associates of Mr. Rodgers were admitted to the church. The body was taken from the house in Seventy-eighth street at 9:40 o'clock. This is the list of pallbearers: William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, E. T. Bedford, James A. Monett, Samuel L. Clemens, E. H. Harriman, Raymond DuPuy, E. H. Gary, M. E. Stone, John D. Ryan, John M. Beck, Charles A. Peabody, Dr. C. R. Rice, George W. Perkins, Colonel A. O. Falvo and General James Jordan.

Music a Feature.
The Rev. Dr. Robert Collier conducted the services. The Mendelssohn quartet furnished the music in conjunction with the regular church choir. "Lead, Kindly Light," "Abide With Me" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee" were the hymns.

Besides the members of the family, a few of the pallbearers and some of Mr. Rodgers' most intimate friends will go to Fairhaven. The services there will be at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Fairhaven Memorial church, built by Mr. Rodgers. They will be conducted by the Rev. Frank L. Phalen, the pastor. Before the services the body of Mr. Rodgers will lie in state in the church. The interment is to be in the Rodgers mausoleum in Riverside cemetery.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 21.—Frank Slack, a real estate agent of Middletown, shot himself through the head after shooting his wife.

Mrs. Slack has only been able to say that her husband, who had remained at home all day, said after dinner, "Come on out into the yard. I'm going to shoot you and we'll die together."

The woman screamed and ran from the room, but he followed and fired twice, one shot striking her in the back of the head and the other in her arm. She fell unconscious and Slack, going to a window, fired a bullet through his head. He died instantly. Mrs. Slack revived, but could shed no light on the cause of the tragedy. She will recover.

SOUTHERN TRIP DELIGHTS TAFT.

Chief Executive Returns to Washington in Happy Mood—Got Drenching at Charlotte.

Washington, May 21.—President Taft and party returned to the capital today from his trip south, during which he made a number of addresses in Virginia and North Carolina. His reception everywhere was most cordial and he expressed himself as being delighted with his experiences.

President Taft went to Charlotte, the home of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, signed in May of 1775, and placed himself squarely on the side of those who look back upon this declaration as one of the first significant steps which led ultimately to American independence.

In his address to the people of North Carolina the president explained his policy toward the south. His own recent appointment of a Democrat to the federal bench in that state gave him an opportunity to expand upon his previously expressed views. Mr. Taft urged again the advisability of an intelligent, logical opposition party.

"I do not believe that we are on the point of a political revolution in the south," said the president. "I never have had such a dream. What I do desire, and believe we are on the eve of, is a complete tolerance of opinion and that there shall grow into respect and power an intelligent fighting opposition party in each state of the union."

Declares His Policy.
The president declared that through the south he intended to pursue the policy he already had indicated of trying almost to the hilt to make the Republican or Democrat, can command the highest confidence and commend himself to the community in which he lives.

A cloudburst just as the parade was passing in review before the president, bringing serious consequences for a time. It set the densely packed throng in front of the reviewing stand into a panic and there was a wild rush for shelter. The president's box was a goal for many men and women, and the chief executive had to be surrounded to save him from the sudden crush.

An Impromptu Salute.
In the midst of the storm a passing industrial float became entangled in a live electric wire and tore it from its support. The slender thread of copper sagging almost to the heads of the scrambling crowd below. While the confusion was at its height, and to add to the tense situation, there was a blinding flash of flame and a loud report not fifty yards from where the president stood. It developed later that a quantity of black powder scattered to have been used for saluting purposes had been prematurely ignited. No one was injured either in the explosion or in the crush about the reviewing stand.

The president received quite a drenching, and for a time it seemed that the frail canvas covering the reviewing stand would tumble about the heads of those beneath. Among these was Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson. When she had met Mr. Taft earlier in the day she had earnestly exclaimed: "I am indeed delighted to know the harmonious of all hearts."

SCOTTTDALE BORO. AUDIT COMPLETED.

Officials Present a Very Full Report of Their Investigation.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF CONDITIONS

Mill Town is Shown to Be in Very Good Shape Financially—Largest Expenditure of Year Tax Permanent Improvements—Pole Tax Bobs Up.

SCOTTTDALE, May 21.—Borough auditors J. J. Hawthorne, J. T. Hambley and George B. Shupe have made public the audit of the financial conditions of the borough for the last fiscal year. The report shows that the town is in good financial shape, and notable among the expenditures made during the year is the fact that about 40 per cent. of the money paid out was for permanent improvements in sewers and streets, the long agitated sewerage of the Pine Tree section being completed during the year, as also the paving of Spring street.

During the year two bond issues were made, one for $30,000 for the paying off of $19,949.39 of warrants that have been outstanding from Councils previous to the division of the town into wards and on which 5 per cent. interest was being paid; for the severing of Pine Tree and the erection of a garage furnace. The sewer was built, but the garage furnace is in statu quo, $1,502.50 having been expended for that purpose and to buy a plot of ground in the Fourth Ward. Tax collector S. B. McMillan made a wonderful record in tax collecting during the year, showing too that the Scotchdale citizens, as prompt in paying taxes, leaving a very small balance to be collected much of which has lately come in.

Collector McMillan collected and turned in of 1908, taxes $27,922.51. Among other receipts Burgess Ferguson paid in fines and licenses $853.02, and Weighmaster E. M. Stantz, $180.10 for weighing fees, while the liquor licenses in town brought in $800.

DON'T GROW OLD.
Keep Your Hair Bright and Luxuriant and Stay Young.

Yes, Parisian Sage, the most invigorating hair restorer, grows hair; the women of America, who have luxuriant hair know it does, and that is why thousands of attractive women throughout the land are regularly using it.

For years this almost marvelous grower of lustrous and beautiful hair has been the elite of Europe and New York City, but about two years ago it was given to a select list of druggists, and today can be obtained in any city or town in America where society women of refinement dwell.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair tonic in the world. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is perfumed most delicately and is not sticky or greasy. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage." A. A. Clarke is the regularly appointed agent in Connelville for Parisian Sage, and he will sell you a large bottle under a rigid guarantee for 50 cents.

A large bottle of better tonic than that which you get when you lay down a half dollar for a bottle of Parisian Sage. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package and bottle.

HIDE AND SEEK IN PEN
Negro Convict in Ohio Prison Hides While Guards Are "It."

Columbus, O., May 21.—Harvey Johnson, a negro, under life sentence, who was brought to the penitentiary a few days ago from Franklin county and who escaped from his cell, is hiding somewhere in the prison.

Twice during the night he was seen, but each time he eluded capture. The entire floor in the bolt shop, where the negro worked, was ripped up. Traces of where he had crawled beneath the floor were found. His working clothes and an improvised ladder were also found. The guards have been ordered to shoot to kill if Johnson does not give himself up.

Double guards have been put on but the negro has not been found. He may have crawled into one of the penitentiary sewers.

Why a Check Is Safe.

A check is merely an order on the bank for money—The money is, of course, much safer in a good bank than in your pocket. A check may be lost, stolen, improperly paid—but there is no loss either to the person who drew the check or the person in whose favor it was drawn. It is the duty of the bank to pay it to the proper person or stand the loss.

It's easy to see that it is always safer to pay by check. Large or small, your account is cordially invited by

SENSATIONAL ARSON CASE ON.

U. M. Weimer of Meyersdale Charged With Burning Gurley Shop.

ALLEGED THAT HE CONFESSED

Detectives Said To Have Become Familiar With Him and He Told the Story to Them—Is Exciting Great Interest.

SOMERSET, Pa., May 21.—The selection of a jury to try the indictment of U. M. Weimer of Meyersdale on a charge of arson preferred by T. W. Gurley, a well known Meyersdale jeweler, was commenced. A large number of jurors were called and examined and the attorneys for the prosecutor and defendant freely exercised their right to challenge jurors. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the panel was declared complete.

Attorney Edward A. Coker of Pittsburgh, who is associated in the prosecution, opened the Commonwealth's case. He outlined the various matters which would be proven by the prosecution, among which were the following:

T. W. Gurley, the prosecutor, conducted an automobile garage and machine shop near the E. & O. depot in Meyersdale and U. M. Weimer, the defendant who is charged with arson, the offense consisting in the alleged burning of Gurley's shop, operated a similar establishment about 70 feet from the Gurley shop. There was strong competition between the two men and after a strenuous advertising campaign most of Weimer's customers became patrons of the Gurley shop. On the night of January 2, 1930, an explosion was heard in the neighborhood of the Gurley shop and shortly afterward the building burst into flames. There is supposed to have been no fire in the shop at the time and the switch controlling the electric lights was turned off. There was groaning in the shop but most of it was in a tank underground where it was found unlighted after the fire. Gurley's building was totally destroyed.

About a week after the fire Mr. Gurley secured the services of the Frank Mittle Detective Agency of Pittsburgh to learn the cause of the fire. This concern sent several of their agents to Meyersdale, among whom were men named Stubby, Hendricks and H. B. Duff. These men became, according to the statements of Attorney Coker, intimate with Weimer. They told him they intended to open a garage and automobile repair shop in Meyersdale and Weimer agreed to join with them. It is alleged that Weimer told these detectives that he was instrumental in burning Gurley's building and that he told a man named Charles Peters $500 to throw an explosive bomb into the building thus lighting it. A written agreement between Weimer and Peters is said to have existed but was lost. Weimer went to Pittsburgh to negotiate with the detective, then his prospective partners, and in a hotel he wrote another agreement, which will be produced during the trial, to burn Gurley's shop. On a subsequent visit to Pittsburgh Weimer was arrested and taken to an office where, it is stated, in the presence of six witnesses, he detailed the story of the burning of Gurley's building and also wrote a confession.

It is stated that after the fire in Gurley's building had broken out, about 2 o'clock in the morning, Weimer was seen outside his own building throwing a bomb on the roof with a hose to save it from the flames. This case is exciting a great deal of interest here. From present appearance the trial will consume several days as great care is being exercised by the counsel on both sides.

PAY OF BURGESS AN ISSUE.

Defeated Candidate Tries to Keep Rival's Salary Down.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 20.—A hot fight is on regarding the Burgess salary. Council has instructed the borough collector to prepare an ordinance fixing the salary at $1,000. This was in accordance with a law passed at the recent session of the Legislature, fixing the amount according to the last census or upon population estimated from the official registration of voters.

A faction of Council, however, claims Burgess W. Hoyt was inducted into office prior to the passage of the new law and that his salary should not be more than $800 nor less than $750. Supporters of the new ordinance assert this is not sufficient for the Burgess of a town the size of Washington.

The leader in the movement to keep down the salary is Councilman Jacob Zell, Jr., who was defeated for Burgess by Hoyt at the last election.

BARKLEY WINS COVETED HONOR.

Detroit Man Chosen Moderator of Presbyterian General Assembly. Dr. McEwan Withdraws.

DOVER, May 21.—Dr. James M. Barkley of Detroit was elected moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, receiving 601 votes against 292 votes for Dr. Edgar P. Hill of Chicago.

The election of Dr. Barkley, which caused an surprise in view of the great show of strength made before the election by Dr. William L. Stearns of Pittsburgh and Dr. Hill, was made unanimous.

Three ballots were taken. Dr. McEwan withdrew after the second, thus avoiding a long drawn out contest. When the assembly was called to order Dr. Samuel B. McCordick, chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, nominated Dr. McEwan. The presentation of his name brought forth great applause. The nominating speech of the Rev. Joseph A. Vance of Chicago, presenting the name of Dr. Hill, was so replete with humorous threats based on the presumption of Pennsylvania in asking a moderator every other year that Dr. Hill was loudly cheered also.

The Rev. John McDowell of Newark, N. J., nominated Dr. Barkley. The first ballot resulted in a deadlock, which threatened to become permanent, as each candidate had received less than 500 votes. On the second ballot Dr. McEwan's strength fell away, and it became evident that the east as well as the far west was lending its support to the two other candidates.

At this juncture Dr. McEwan took the floor and said that in the interest of harmony and in order that the business of the assembly might proceed with greater dispatch, he would withdraw. On the next ballot Dr. McEwan's strength went to Dr. Barkley and he received far more than the number of votes necessary to elect him.

Dr. D. P. Fullerton of St. Louis inducted his successor into office and Dr. Barkley thanked the assembly and promised his best efforts for the assembly and the church.

The Rev. Charles Steile of New York, head of the church and labor committee, will occupy the pulpit in the synagogue of Rabbi Friedman this evening at the invitation of the latter and will talk on labor subjects.

Today the assembly celebrated the 40th anniversary of the birth of John Calvin.

Lord Ronaldsday Regrets Attack Upon Countess of Granard.

LONDON, May 21.—Lord Ronaldsday at a public meeting last night made an object apology for an attack which he made at a recent political meeting upon the Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Dorothea Mills of New York.

THE COUNTESS OF GRANARD.

made at a recent political meeting upon the Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Dorothea Mills of New York. He had alluded to the countess as a "dumped American heiress, who had been fortunate enough to secure a title." In his address last night Lord Ronaldsday said that he wished to apologize for what he admitted, on thinking it over, was "a singularly ill-chosen joke."

The BLACK BAG

"That's another secret. You've got to know your man, be able to size him up. I called on this chap for that very purpose, but I saw at a glance he wasn't our man. He smelled a nigger in the wood pile and most politely told me to go to the devil. But if he had come in he'd have died before he sequined. I know the breed. There's honor among gentlemen that knocks the honor of thieves higher than a kite, the old saw to the contrary—nothing doing. You understand me, I'm sure, Mulready," he concluded, with conventional sweetness.

"I don't see just how Kirkwood got anything to do with Dorothy." "Miss Calendar to you, Mr. Mulready," snapped Calendar. "There, there, now! Don't get excited. It was when the Italian passed me word that a man from the Yard was waiting on the altar steps for me that Kirkwood came in. He was dining close by. I went over and worked on his feelings until he agreed to take Dorothy off my hands. If I had attempted to leave the place with her they'd have spotted me for sure. My compliments to you, Dick Mulready."

There came the noise of chair legs scraped harshly on the cabin deck. Apparently Mulready had leaped to his feet in a rage.

"I've told you," he began in a voice thick with passion. "Oh, sit down!" Calendar cut in contemptuously. "Sit down! Do you hear? That's all over and done with. We understand each other now, and you won't try any more monkey shins. It's a square deal and a square divide so far as I'm concerned. If we stick to either there'll be profit enough for all concerned. Sit down, Mul, and have another slug of the captain's bum rum."

Although Mulready consented to be pacified, Kirkwood got the impression that the man was far gone in drink. A moment later he heard him growl "Chin-chin!" antiphonal to the captain's "Cheerio."

"Now, then," Calendar proposed. "Mr. Kirkwood asked—peace be with him—let's get down to cases."

"What's the row?" asked the captain. "The row, cap'n, is the Italian female, who has unexpectedly shown up in Antwerp, we have reason to believe, with malicious intent and a private detective to add to the galaxy of nations."

"What's the odds? She can't hurt us without lying 'n trouble for herself." "Mighty little consolation to us when we're working it out in jail."

"Speak for yourself," granted Mulready sulkily. "I do," returned Calendar easily. "We're both in the shadow of jail. Mul, my boy, since you choose to take the reference as personal, I'm going to keep on yawning, too, unless I take my guess. I love my native land more to death."

"Now, how that?" interrupted the captain irritably. "Let's hear about the 'Alban.' We're you afraid of?" "I'm afraid she'll set up a yell when she finds out we're planting the loot, cap'n. She's just that vindictive. You'd think she'd be satisfied with her end of the stick, but you don't know the Hallams and what water off a spring of hers is the apple of her eye, and Freddie's going to collar the whole shooting match or madam will kick over the traces."

"Well, she's queered us here. We can't do anything if my lady is going to camp on our tail and everything we're shifty customers, can we? The question now before the board is, Where now—and how?"

"Amateurism," Mulready chimed in. "I told you that in the beginning."

"But how?" argued Calendar. "The Lord knows I'm willing, but we can't go by rail, thanks to the Hallams. We've got to lose her first of all."

"But what I'm asking is what's the matter with—"

"The Albanian, cap'n? Nothing, so far as Dick and I are concerned. But my dutiful daughter is prejudiced. She's been so long without proper paternal discipline," Calendar laughed, "that she's rather high spirited. Of course I might overcome her objections, but the girl's no fool, and every ounce of pressure I bring to bear just now only helps make her more restless and suspicious."

"You leave her to me," Mulready interposed, with a brutal laugh. "I'll guarantee to get her aboard or—" "Drop it, Dick," Calendar advised quietly. "And go a bit easy with that bottle for five minutes, can't you?"

"Well, then," Stryker resumed, apparently concerning in Calendar's attitude, "we don't one of you take the stuff, go off quiet and dispose of it to a proper fence and come back to divide."

"I don't see why that—" "Naturally you wouldn't," chuckled Calendar. "Few people besides the two of us understand the depth of affection existing between Dick, here, and me. We just can't bear to get out of sight of each other. We're sure inseparable—almost night before last I lost him!"

"You drop it!" snarled Mulready in accents so ugly that the listener was startled. "Enough's enough, and—"

"There, then, Dick! All right! I'll behave," Calendar soothed him. "I'll forget and say no more about it."

"Well, see you don't."

RHODES' Cash Department Store.

Don't ask to take the goods away from this store on approval without them being paid for, as we have an absolute ruling to the contrary.

A commercial institution to endure must be rooted in the rocks of public confidence. The shores of time are strewn with the wrecks of houses that were built on the sands of promise without performance. We have enjoyed the confidence of the people of this community for nine years and in that nine years we have convinced thousands of people that all our goods are as good as the best, and prices that are just a little bit better.

We mention below part of our specials for this week:

qualified impotency. He had no money, not even cash fare from the hotel to the railway station. Something subtle, more crafty, had to be contrived to meet the emergency. And there was one way, one only. He could see none other. Temporarily he must make himself one of the company of her enemies, force himself upon them, ingratiate himself into their good graces, gain their confidence, then when opportunity offered betray them. And the power to make them tolerate him, if not receive him as a fellow, the knowledge of them and their plans that they had unwittingly given him, was his.

NOTHING TO PAY. Hyomel is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Money Back.

When you suffer horribly from catarrh and are constantly suffering and snuffing, hawking and spitting, and doing other disgusting things, remember there is a certain cure, called Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me), which is guaranteed to cure.

Hyomel will give joyful relief to any catarrh sufferer in five minutes and it gives remarkable relief to constipation.

Hyomel is medicated air prepared from the extracts taken from the giant eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption is never known.

You breathe in this healing and antiseptic air through an inhaler and this air, with its peculiar soothing properties, passing over the inflamed and germ-laden membrane for catarrh is a germ disease, kills the germ, always the inflammation, and in a short time completely cures the disease.

A complete Hyomel outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler that will last a life time, and a bottle of Hyomel, costs only $1.00, extra bottles cost 50 cents. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Connelville by A. A. Clarke who guarantees it on the money back plan.

Over there across the water, in the dingy and disreputable Hotel du Commerce, Dorothy waited in her room, doubting the prey of unnumbered nameless terrors, while aboard the brigantine her fate was being decided by a council of three unrepentable scoundrels, one of whom, professing himself her father, openly declared his intention of using her to further his selfish and criminal ends.

"You drop it!" snarled Mulready in accents so ugly that the listener was startled. "Enough's enough, and—"

"There, then, Dick! All right! I'll behave," Calendar soothed him. "I'll forget and say no more about it."

JAPS DISPLAY NO ARMS

Entertainment Program Modified Because of Prejudice.

Vancouver, B. C., May 21.—Apparently out of respect to the feeling of people who are opposed to any parade by Japanese under arms in Vancouver, the procession of men from the visiting cruisers Asio and Soya was practically abandoned.

Instead of 700 Japanese coming ashore with full military equipment and marching through the city streets to Stanley park, the landing party came in small sections and walked up town to a park for an afternoon of sport. No arms were displayed.

PLANTER DROPS DEAD

Just as He Was About to Shoot Occupant of Auto.

Shelby, N. C., May 21.—While in the act of firing a shotgun at an auto, which had just grazed him, John Walker, a prominent planter, dropped dead in the public road.

Walker was injured some time ago when an auto scared his horse and caused it to run away. He swore then that he would kill the next autoist who dashed by him and he carried a shotgun continually for that purpose.

Jupiter Plutis spilled the water can yesterday and caused all the games in the Pennsylvania and West Virginia leagues to be postponed. Clarksburg and Uniontown attempted to play in the former town but after Uniontown had secured a 1 to 0 lead in the third inning the heavens opened and the delay game.

Connellsville spent an idle day in Clarksburg and the players had a famous beer around the hotel. Today they will essay to trounce the Drummers, tomorrow play in Fairmont, and return to Clarksburg for a game Sunday. Then they come home for Monday's contest with Uniontown.

A big crowd is expected to attend the Uniontown game here Monday. It will be the first meeting of these teams this year and much interest is manifested in the attraction. The only disappointing feature is the poor showing Uniontown has made so far this season, but if the Cokers go into the game overconfident there is no telling what might happen. Uniontown is due in her luck, but the outfit is dangerous and can be depended upon to make a fight to the death against Connellsville.

To be watched by Connellsville is the worst distance that can befall a Uniontown team but the latter seem to have a few defects in armor for McGloster's crew. Swenson's bases are sure to work some magic on the Cokers for some time and, perhaps, they have the Cokers' best year, and they have this is the time to be in.

The league has been fortunate in its relations with the weather. It will be the first meeting of these teams this year and much interest is manifested in the attraction. The only disappointing feature is the poor showing Uniontown has made so far this season, but if the Cokers go into the game overconfident there is no telling what might happen. Pfeister, catcher; Mentzer, pitcher; Grenold, short; Ritchey, center; McFarland, second; Gohright, third; Leubart, left; Connell, right; McGinn, first.

If The News can put up an aggregation of star players such as that above it is up to them to do it this afternoon. In case of rain the game will be postponed until a later date.

New Ohiopyle House.

Will open to the public Decoration Day. May 21st with many new additions. They have added a fine living room, pool and billiard room for ladies and gents, and refreshment stands. The new house will have 75 rooms for guests this year. Write for rates.

Scottdale Baseball.

The rain caused a postponement of the game between the Firemen and Everson teams of the Scottdale City league. The game was postponed until Sunday.
